

I am deeply concerned that this proposal would result in a further concentration of media control and power to a minimum number of players thus limiting the public's access to opposing points of view. Since the fundamental basis of a Democracy is an enlightened citizenry, I feel it is incumbent on you (the FCC) as the governmental "protector of access to the airwaves", to insure that those opposing views are equally available.

Allowing near monopolistic ownership of the media by a select few large corporate interests undermines your credibility in your important role and a keeper of the public trust.
